Peer Review has been described as the 'Gold Standard' of Quality Assessment and is now regarded as the central 'Quality' threshold for Legal Aid suppliers. The fully fledged scheme is now in operation and will impact upon both Preferred Supplier Status and the Carter Proposals.

It now seems only a matter of time before all firms serious about continuing with Legal Aid work will need to submit this to this fundamentally new form of assessment. Despite all these implications this development has largely passed the profession by.

At JRS we have been following the development of this scheme through the pilot to the point where the results now genuinely matter. Informed by this experience, this course aims to:

- Explain the background, structure and processes involved in the scheme
- Outline the basis on which findings are made and most importantly

- Provide practical guidance on how firms can improve case conduct and recording to achieve the required standard.
